Re: Notice of Data Security Incident

Dear Next of Kin of <<Name 1>>:

Atlantic Digestive Specialists (“ADS”) is writing to inform you of an incident that may affect the security of your loved one’s personal health information. While ADS is unaware of any actual or attempted misuse of this information, this letter contains details about the incident and our response, as well as steps you can take to protect your loved one’s information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On February 20, 2017, ADS discovered that some of our systems were infected with ransomware. ADS removed the ransomware from the affected systems by February 22, 2017. We have been working diligently, with the assistance of third-party forensic investigators, to determine the full nature and scope of this incident. Based on the investigation, it appears the ransomware began affecting the systems on or around February 18, 2017.

What Information Was Involved? To date, we have no evidence of actual or attempted misuse of your one’s information as a result of this incident. However, the systems that were impacted by this incident may have contained your loved one’s information, including name, date of birth, address information, telephone number, medical record number, health insurance information, and clinical/diagnostic information. For some individuals, the impacted information may have also included a Social Security number.

What We Are Doing. Since discovering this incident, we have been working diligently to identify what data may have been affected and to whom it relates. We have been taking steps to notify individuals potentially affected by this incident as they are identified. We have contacted the FBI and will be contacting the relevant state Attorneys General. We have also reported this incident to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

The confidentiality, privacy, and security of our patient information is one of our highest priorities. We have stringent security measures in place to protect the security of information in our possession. In addition, as part of our ongoing commitment to the security of personal information in our care, we are working to implement additional safeguards and security measures to enhance the privacy and security of information on our systems.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to review the attached Steps You Can Take to Protect Your Information. ADS also encourages you to remain vigilant against the misuse of your loved one’s information. You can do this by reviewing your loved one’s account statements, medical bills, and health insurance Explanation of Benefits statements regularly for suspicious activity.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please call our dedicated assistance line at 888-757-1875 (toll free), Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. EDT.

We sincerely regret any inconvenience or concern this incident has caused you.

Sincerely,

Steps You Can Take to Protect Your Loved One's Information

While we continue to investigate, you may take direct action to further protect against possible identity theft or financial loss.

Monitoring Accounts: We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing account statements, free credit reports, medical bills, and health insurance statements regularly for suspicious activity, to ensure that no one has submitted fraudulent medical claims using your loved one's name and other information. Report all suspicious or fraudulent charges to your loved one's account and insurance providers. If your loved one did not receive regular Explanation of Benefits statements, you can contact your loved one's health plan and request them to send such statements following the provision of services.

In addition, there are steps you can take to protect your loved one's credit file. Under U.S. law you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus so long as you verify your authorization to make such a request on behalf of your loved one. To order this free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228.

You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of this credit report. We recommend contacting the three credit reporting agencies listed below to discuss your particular situation and obtain specific guidance. Once you establish a relationship with the credit reporting agency and verify your authorization to make a request on behalf of your loved one, you can request a copy of your loved one's credit report. A review of the credit report will let you know of any active credit accounts that still need to be closed or any pending collection notices. Be sure to ask for all contact information on accounts currently open in your loved one's name (credit granters, collection agencies, etc.) so that you can follow through with these entities.

You may also request, in writing, that the credit report list the following alert:

"Deceased. Do not issue credit. If an application is made for credit, notify the following person(s) immediately: (list yourself, and/or another authorized relative, and/or executor/trustee of the estate—noting the relationship of any individual listed to your family member—and/or a law enforcement agency)."

In most cases, this flag will prevent the opening of new credit accounts in your loved one's name. Contact information for the three major credit bureaus is as follows:

Monitor Your Accounts

Credit Reports. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your credit reports and explanation of benefits forms for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

Fraud Alerts. At no charge, you can also have these credit bureaus place a “fraud alert” on your file that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity prior to granting credit in your name. Note, however, that because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect you, it may also delay your ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies your identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, or should you have any questions regarding your credit report, please contact any one of the agencies listed below.

Security Freeze. You may also place a security freeze on your credit reports. A security freeze prohibits a credit bureau from releasing any information from a consumer’s credit report without the consumer’s written authorization. However, please be advised that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing, or other services. If you have been a victim of identity theft and you provide the credit bureau with a valid police report, it cannot charge you to place, lift, or remove a security freeze. In all other cases, a credit bureau may charge you a fee to place, temporarily lift, or permanently remove a security freeze. Fees vary based on where you live, but commonly range from $3 to $15. You will need to place a security freeze separately with each of the three major credit bureaus listed above if you wish to place a freeze on all of your credit files. In order to request a security freeze, you will need to supply your full name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, current address, all addresses for up to five previous years, email address, a copy of your state identification card or driver’s license, and a copy of a utility bill, bank or insurance statement, or other statement proving residence. Steps You Can Take to Protect Your Information

While we continue to investigate, you may take direct action to further protect against possible identity theft or financial loss.

Credit Monitoring – provided by ADS. We have arranged to have Equifax Personal Solutions help you to protect your minor's personal information at no cost to you.

About the Product. Equifax Child Identity Monitoring will scan the Equifax credit database for any instances of the minor's social security number and look for a copy of the minor's credit file.

- If no SSN match is found and no credit file exists, Equifax will create a credit file in the minor's name and immediately "lock" the credit file. This will prevent access to the minor's information in the future. If someone attempts to use your minor's information to open credit, you will receive an email alert.
- If there is a match and a credit file exists, Equifax will immediately "lock" the file, initiate an investigation into the use of that file and alert you to new attempts to use your minor's information.

How to Enroll. Parents or guardians – if you have not ordered from Equifax in the past, you will need to create an account. If you have questions for Equifax, you may call the phone number listed in the Equifax Member Center or in the Equifax email communication.

To sign up your child please visit www.myservices.equifax.com/minor and follow the steps below:

1. If you are a parent/guardian who already has an Equifax account, please login using the username and password you created when enrolling in your product.
2. If you are a parent/guardian who does not have an Equifax account, below the login screen, you will see text that reads "Don't have an Equifax account? Please click here to create an account." Please click to create your account, and then enter in the parent/guardian information on the screens that follow in order to create an account.
3. Select the button for "$29.95 for 12 months".
4. Enter promotion code <<Code>> to order the first minor product and click "apply code". This will zero out the price of the product. Do not enter credit card information.
5. Check the box to agree to the Terms of Use.
6. Next, click the "Continue" button.
7. You will be prompted to answer certain authentication questions to validate your identity.
8. Please review the order and click the "Submit" button.
9. You will then see the Order Confirmation. Please note that since you did not enter credit card information you will not be billed after the 12 months.
10. Click "View my Product" which will take you to your Member Center.

Contact the IRS. You may contact the IRS at www.irs.gov/Individuals/Identity-Protection for helpful information and guidance on steps you can take to prevent a fraudulent tax return from being filed in your son or daughter's name and what to do if he or she becomes the victim of such fraud. You can also visit www.irs.gov/uac/Taxpayer-Guide-to-Identity-Theft for more information.

Monitor Your Accounts.

Credit Reports. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing applicable account statements and monitoring your child's credit reports (should they maintain credit files) and explanation of benefits forms for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law, adults are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of a credit report.

Fraud Alerts. At no charge, you can also have these credit bureaus place a "fraud alert" on your son or daughter's file (should such credit file exist) that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify identity prior to granting credit in your child's name. Note, however, that because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect your child, it may also delay in the ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies your identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, or should you have any questions regarding your credit report, please contact any one of the agencies listed below.

NOTICE OF DATA PRIVACY EVENT

ABOUT THE DATA PRIVACY EVENT

On February 20, 2017, ADS discovered that some of our systems were infected with ransomware. Our investigation revealed that the ransomware began affecting these systems on or around February 18, 2017. We removed the ransomware from the affected systems by February 22, 2017. We have been working diligently, with the assistance of third-party forensic investigators, to determine the full nature and scope of this incident. As part of our investigation, we also notified the FBI.

We continue to work closely with our third-party forensic investigators to investigate this incident and to confirm the security of our systems. We are also taking additional actions to strengthen and enhance the security of our systems moving forward.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: What happened? ADS has been the target of a sophisticated cyberattack that resulted in ransomware infecting certain IT systems. While our investigation is ongoing, we have no evidence of any actual or attempted misuse of information as a result of this incident. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of information within our care is one of our highest priorities and we are taking proactive steps to address this incident.

Q: What information may have been affected by this incident? Again, while our investigation is ongoing, to date, we have no evidence of any actual or attempted misuse of information as a result of this incident. However, the systems that were impacted by this incident may have contained information including names, dates of birth, address information, telephone numbers, medical record numbers, health insurance information, and clinical/diagnostic information at the time of the incident. In limited instances, the impacted systems may have also contained Social Security numbers.

Q: How will I know if I am affected by this incident? On April 21, 2017, ADS began mailing notice letters to individuals whose data was present on the affected systems. Q: What may I do to protect my information?

Monitor Your Accounts.

Credit Reports. We encourage impacted individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review account statements, and to monitor their credit reports and explanation of benefits forms for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

Fraud Alerts. At no charge, you can also have these credit bureaus place a “fraud alert” on your file that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity prior to granting credit in your name. Note, however, that because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect you, it may also delay your ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies your identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, or should you have any questions regarding your credit report, please contact any one of the agencies listed below.

Security Freeze. You may also place a security freeze on your credit reports. A security freeze prohibits a credit bureau from releasing any information from a consumer’s credit report without the consumer’s written authorization. However, please be advised that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing, or other services. If you have been a victim of identity theft and you provide the credit bureau with a valid police report, it cannot charge you to place, lift, or remove a security freeze. In all other cases, a credit bureau may charge you a fee to place, temporarily lift, or permanently remove a security freeze. Fees vary based on where you live, but commonly range from $3 to $15. You will need to place a security freeze separately with each of the three major credit bureaus listed above if you wish to place a freeze on all of your credit files. In order to request a security freeze, you will need to supply your full name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, current address, all addresses for up to five previous years, email address, a copy of your state identification card or driver’s license, and a copy of a utility bill, bank or insurance statement, or other statement proving residence.
