Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>:

We are writing to inform you of a possible incident relating to the Food Industry Self Insurance Fund of New Mexico and to its wholly-owned subsidiary, Adjusting Alternatives, LLC that may have put the security of your information, including your name and Social Security number, at risk. We take the security of your information very seriously and sincerely regret any inconvenience this may have caused you or may cause you in the future. This letter contains information about steps you can take to continue to protect your information, as well as resources we are making available to you.

On the evening of Friday, February 2, 2018, we placed benefit checks in a United States Postal Service mailbox. On February 7, 2018, the U.S. Postal Service and a USPS Inspector confirmed that an unidentified thief broke into a USPS mailbox and stole the bin, which contained your benefit check. We immediately contacted our financial institution to stop payment on the checks, and have since reissued and re-sent the checks. Unfortunately, the checks contained your name, address, and Social Security number.

To help relieve concerns and restore confidence following this incident, we are now offering identity theft protection services to you through ID Experts®, a data breach and recovery services expert, to provide you with a MyIDCare™ protection plan at no cost to you for one year. MyIDCare™ will help you resolve issues if your identity is compromised at no cost to you. We strongly encourage you to register for this complimentary identity theft protection service. For residents of Massachusetts:

It is required by state law that you are informed of your right to obtain a police report if you are a victim of identity theft

For residents of all states:

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus at one of the three major credit bureaus by phone and also via Experian's or Equifax's website. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. The contact information for all three credit bureaus is below:

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant and monitor your accounts for suspicious or unusual activity.

Security Freeze: You also have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency. You may make that request by certified mail, overnight mail, or regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. The consumer reporting agency may charge a small fee to place, life, or remove a freeze, but is free if you are a victim of identity theft or the spouse of a victim of identity theft, and you have submitted a valid police report relating to the identity theft incident to the consumer reporting agency. You may obtain a security freeze by contacting any one or more of the following national consumer reporting agencies:
