Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

Meadville Medical Center, Titusville Area Hospital, and our affiliated practices (collectively “MMC”) are committed to safeguarding the privacy and security of personal information we maintain.

We are writing to inform you about a data security incident that may have involved some of your information. This notice explains the incident, measures we have taken, and some steps you can take in response.

On February 12, 2020, MMC concluded its investigation and analysis of a data security incident that involved unauthorized access to the Meditech human resources and payroll system. MMC first learned of this incident on January 21, 2020, when our administrative team became aware of suspicious activity in Meditech. Upon learning of this, we immediately secured the Meditech human resources and payroll system, notified law enforcement, and launched an investigation, with the assistance of an outside professional IT security firm.

Through our investigation, we learned that an employee’s Meditech credentials were acquired by unauthorized parties through a phishing email and were used to access the Meditech human resources and payroll system at various times between the dates of December 5, 2019 and January 21, 2020. Our investigation has determined that the unauthorized parties may have accessed personal information for some current and former employees of MMC, their spouses, and dependents that is maintained in the Meditech human resources and payroll system. This information may have included your name, date of birth, mailing address, Social Security number, driver’s license number, financial account information (including bank account and routing numbers), and potentially copies of IRS Form W-2s.

To date, we are unaware of any misuse of the personal information maintained in Meditech. However, out of an abundance of caution, we wanted to let you know this happened and assure you we take it very seriously. We encourage you to remain vigilant by reviewing your financial account statements for any unauthorized activity. If you see charges or activity you did not authorize, please contact your financial institution immediately. As a precaution, we have secured the services of Experian® to offer you a complimentary one-year membership of Experian’s IdentityWorksSM. This product helps detect possible misuse of your information and provides you with identity protection support focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorks is completely free and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For more information on IdentityWorks, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary one-year membership, as well as some additional steps you can take to protect yourself, please see the pages that follow this letter.

In order to reduce the likelihood of something like this from happening again, we have implemented multi-factor authentication for remote access to email and are providing additional cybersecurity training to employees. We are also notifying the IRS and state taxing authorities of the incident.

We deeply regret any concern this incident may cause you. An incident response call center has been established specific to this incident and will be able to assist in answering any questions you may have regarding this data security incident; please call 844-987-1203, Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Sincerely,

Gregory Maras

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

- Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.ftc.gov/idtheft

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
