Dear <<Name 1>>,

We are writing to inform you of an incident at International Code Council (“ICC”) that may have resulted in the disclosure of your name and payment card information. We take the security of your personal information very seriously, and sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this incident may cause. This letter contains information about steps you can take to protect yourself.

On December 16, 2016, we discovered an issue potentially impacting the processing of credit and debit card purchases made through our online store. We immediately took action to secure our system and conducted an investigation to determine what information may have been accessed. The independent forensics investigation, which took time, determined that customer payment card information, including name, address, and credit/debit card information may have been compromised between the dates April 25, 2016 – May 24, 2016, and July 11, 2016 - September 14, 2016. The security incident has been contained, and you may continue use your credit and debit cards securely.

We recommend that you check your current and past credit or debit card statements for unusual or suspicious activity, and if any is found, report it to your bank or credit card company. Additional tips for protecting your information can be found on the attached information sheet.

We want to assure you that we are taking steps to prevent a similar event from occurring in the future, and to protect the privacy and security of your information. These actions include updating the security of our website, servers, installing additional firewalls and updating our security training.

Please know that the protection and security of your personal information is our utmost priority, and we sincerely regret any inconvenience or concern this matter may cause you. If you have any questions or concerns, please call 844-893-3076, Monday through Friday, 8:00 am – 8:00 pm Central.

Sincerely,

For residents of all states:

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus at one of the three major credit bureaus by phone and also via Experian's or Equifax's website. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. The contact information for all three credit bureaus is below:

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant and monitor your accounts for suspicious or unusual activity.

Security Freeze: You also have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency. You may make that request by certified mail, overnight mail, or regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. The consumer reporting agency may charge a small fee to place, life, or remove a freeze, but is free if you are a victim of identity theft or the spouse of a victim of identity theft, and you have submitted a valid police report relating to the identity theft incident to the consumer reporting agency. You may obtain a security freeze by contacting any one or more of the following national consumer reporting agencies:
