Re: Notice of Data Breach

Dear <<MemberFirstName>> <<MemberLastName>>,

Movement Mortgage, LLC (“Movement”), is writing to notify you of an incident that may affect the security of your personal information. Although we are unaware of any actual or attempted misuse of your information, we are providing you with information regarding the incident, steps we have taken since discovering the incident, and what you can do to protect against identity theft and fraud should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On September 8, 2016, Movement became aware of suspicious logins to certain company email accounts by an unknown source as the result of sophisticated phishing attacks on its email system. In response, Movement began an investigation and brought in an outside computer forensics expert to determine which employee email accounts were subject to unauthorized logins and what types of information inside those email accounts might be affected. It was confirmed that between approximately early August of 2016 and early October 2016, a company email account containing your personal information was subject to unauthorized log-ins by an unknown source.

What Information Was Involved? Movement’s investigation determined that data relating to your personal information was stored within an affected company email account at the time unauthorized log-in’s to that account occurred. The types of your personal information that may have been stored with the affected email account include your <<ClientDef1>> <<ClientDef2>> (name, driver’s license or state identification card number, bank account number, and payment card information, including card number, expiration date, and card security code)

Please note that Movement’s investigation determined that your Social Security number was NOT stored in the affected email account and is not affected as a result of this incident.

What Are We Doing? At Movement Mortgage we take your privacy and the security of your personal information very seriously. We are taking steps to enhance data security protections to prevent similar incidents in the future, including already having changed the log-in credentials for the company email accounts impacted as a result of this incident. We are also notifying certain government regulators and the major consumer reporting agencies about this incident.

Steps You Can Take to Protect Against Identity Theft and Fraud

You may take action directly to further protect against possible identity theft or financial loss. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review your account statements, and to monitor your credit reports and explanation of benefits forms for suspicious activity. Under U.S. law you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also contact the three major credit bureaus directly to request a free copy of your credit report.

At no charge, you can also have these credit bureaus place a "fraud alert" on your file that alerts creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity prior to granting credit in your name. Note, however, that because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect you, it may also delay your ability to obtain credit while the agency verifies your identity. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, or should you have any questions regarding your credit report, please contact any one of the agencies listed below.

You may also place a security freeze on your credit reports. A security freeze prohibits a credit bureau from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without the consumer's written authorization. However, please be advised that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing, or other services. If you have been a victim of identity theft, and you provide the credit bureau with a valid police report, it cannot charge you to place, lift or remove a security freeze. In all other cases, a credit bureau may charge you a fee to place, temporarily lift, or permanently remove a security freeze. You will need to place a security freeze separately with each of the three major credit bureaus listed above if you wish to place a freeze on all of your credit files.
